Dear Faithful Friends:

Sometimes blessings follow you (Psalm 23:6) and sometimes you just walk into them "by chance" (Luke 10:31-37). I happened to walk into one of those blessings this week at the college. This blessing was in the form of one of our graduates at World Harvest. His name is Charlton Kakunane. He had returned to his native Zambia after graduating five years ago. The blessing was to hear him tell of the blessings of God upon his life and ministry. His own church is bursting at the seams; he has oversight of nine other congregations in his area and has started an extension Bible School with 31 students! I felt at that moment that blessings had caught up with us and that we were walking into others.

I enquired about what had brought Charlton back to South Africa. Among other things he was there to find additional curriculum for the extension Bible School. Words really cannot express the blessing I experienced as I told him about the Advance School of the Bible courses and that we would give him the entire curriculum free of charge.

Beloved, this is where you come in. For it was really you giving this college program to Charlton. Pam and I have burned some midnight oil to get it together and structured to the point it is, but we have been able to do that because you have blessed us with your faithful prayers and support.

Charlton is only one of several graduates who are receiving the curriculum to help them in their work. The great blessing in all of this is to see the word of God prosper in those places where He is sending it (Isaiah 55:11).

Thank you for caring about those things that the Lord cares about. May the Lord "who gives seed to the sower" multiply blessings back to you.

Yours in His service,
